NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—My wife sat sewing a button on my jacket sleeve, a button I had lost in an office duel with an irate subscriber.

"Dear," she said finally, "what are these buttons for?"

I stirred from behind the Congressional Record I was memorizing for a Toastmaster's club speech and said casually, "They're to discourage sniveling."

"What?" said Dorothy.

"I said those buttons are to prevent men from using their jacket sleeves instead of a handkerchief."

Readers should know that I picked up this bit of information from a couple of office "Little Footers" fans, who know just about everything. Some king, they told me, ordered ornamentation to be affixed to jacket sleeves to prevent his subjects from indulging in sniveling. Beyond that brief explanation, I refuse to go. If you expect to go on the $64,000 question with that answer, you'd better do more research. (Anyway, the custom has persisted.)

My astounded wife dropped her sewing and stared at me. "You mean?"

"Exactly," I said sharply. "Men are unsmooth creatures, as you well know. And those buttons are a throw-back to the days when they were less refined—much less refined."

"Those buttons," I added, "are something akin to the rings they place in pigs' snouts to prevent them from rooting the barnyard."

With that I returned to my reading, but not for long. I found myself staring into space, fuming over fashion dictates that would take modern men back to the middle ages. Imagine buttons on jacket sleeves!

Then my wrath shifted to suits in general; how it was that my latest suit should be a funeral black and not the medium gray which I desired. Black shoes! Fashion experts! Bah!

Then the idea struck! In my next column I would advocate the return to togas! Exactly what a toga is, I couldn't explain, but I would advocate 'em, about 'em from the houseposts and lead my fellowmen to freedom from the Bond Street grasp.

Togas, I should imagine, could be tailored very quickly from cloth similar to a bed sheet—perhaps a heavier version of a bed sheet. They would be simple, comfortable. They'd look well on tall men, fat men, medium-sized men. Fat, thin, medium men would turn out as noblemen, as study and grace—as the oaks in the forest. Paunches would be discreetly hidden in the folds of a toga. Flat-chested men could strut proudly within its amplexes. Cleaning would be as simple as the push of a button on your washer.

As hand-me-downs, a toga would be perfect. No style markings to stamp it as last year's model. A toga would serve equally as a full-dress suit, beach wear or a shroud. Only a griddle-belt would remain for ornamentation.

Perhaps a winter's day isn't the proper time to pitch for a return to the toga. But we'll not retract a word.

Off with bonedage; on with togas!

Kefauver Says Adlai 'Favored' Says National Committee Gives Him Top Treatment

CHICAGO—(AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver says the Democratic National Committee has favored Adlai E. Stevenson's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Tennessee senator's verbal blast came at a news conference Friday after his arrival for the current three-day meeting of party leaders.

Paul Butler, national committee chairman, denied Kefauver's charges.

Kefauver's accusations, made while other prospective candidates were going around shaking hands, held chief attention temporarily.

Speeches Tonight

But he will share the spotlight tonight with Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York at a $100-a-plate dinner.

Former President Harry S. Truman, who could have much to say about the selection of a nominee at the Democratic National Convention next August, also will address the diners.

Stevenson, the only declared candidate for the nomination, is scheduled to speak at 10:15 p.m. CST. His address will be carried by NBC and ABC radio and television networks.

More than 2,500 reservations, a spokesman said, have been made for the dinner winding up a three-day party rally.

Kefauver's remarks at the news conference overshadowed most other political talk yesterday. He stated that telegrams of greetings to local Democratic meetings, signed off with Stevenson's name, had been sent from national committee headquarters in Washington.

"Not Proper"

"It's not proper for the national committee to espouse the candidacy of any one person," Kefauver said. "In times past there is evidence that they have been trying to help Mr. Stevenson."

Saying he had been told of "four or five" such instances, Kefauver added, "I am not complaining now, but I just don't think it's proper."

Butler quickly denied the committee had dispatched any such messages. The committee, he added, had been instructed not to take sides.

Stephen A. Mitchell, former national chairman, also denied the charges, stating he was not "aware that any such thing happened."

There was no comment from Stevenson or Harriman, who told reporters he had no announcement of candidacy in mind. Before leaving New York yesterday Harriman said "whoever the next Democratic candidate will be, he will be the next president of the United States."

Harriman Ducks

Harriman insisted to newsmen he is not a candidate, although he is expected to be the "favorite son" of the big New York delegation to the convention.

At Austin, Tex., the office of Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) said the senator has "absolutely no plans to make any announcement as a presidential candidate." The

More Talks "Foolish"

5. More talks with Russia would be "foolish" as things now stand. But if the West keeps hanging together the Soviets eventually will come around to making concessions.

Dulles wound up his report, by quoting the President as personally pledging "no setback, no obstacle" will deter the U.S. search for real peace.

"In striving toward this goal," he quoted Eisenhower as telling him, "this country will never admit defeat."

Dulles blamed the Russians for failure of the foreign ministers to reach agreement on a single one of the issues which had been defined by Eisenhower and the premiers of Russia, Britain and France last July.

Poses Questions

Posing and answering five questions he said "are in the air," Dulles declared he and Eisenhower agree that:

1. The Geneva spirit is not entirely dead because the Russians now shun the "threats and invective" which characterized their pre-summit diplomacy.

2. The risk of open war with Russia is no greater than in July when Eisenhower said the summit conference had made it "less likely."

3. The cold war is back, but it is "peaceful" and devoid of rankling "hostility and animosity."

4. The Eisenhower administration plans no drastic revision of its defense and aid programs because it never lowered its guard on the basis of Russian promises last July.

A change of date has been announced for the meeting of Recovery, Inc. The meeting will be Monday, Nov. 21, at 7:30 p.m., instead of Tuesday night, at the home of Mrs. Dean Hey, 1318 First St.

Kness Backer in Smith Oil Deal

The new Underwood Service at 223 North Galena Avenue occupies the site of the second oldest gas station in Dixon, according to Frank Kness, who financed and owns the new structure.

Kness leases the present station to the Smith Oil Company of Rockford, who have sublet the operation to Bill Underwood.

There were some discrepancies in the accounts of eyewitnesses and men who were in the plane—as passengers or pilots. And the only sizable remaining piece of the once large DC-4 is its tail surface, still resting in a charred backyard amidst a rubble of melted and twisted metal.

The investigators said they had no preconceived notions which caused the Miami-based plane to faller two miles south of Boeing Field, its takeoff point, hit a tree, a utility pole, and a garage and then break up and burn in the backyard of the Colin Dearing home.

But sabotage, which caused the destruction of a United Air Lines plane near Longmont, Colo., with a loss of 44 lives early this month, seemed unlikely to David Nelson, supervising agent for the Seattle office of the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Richard D. Auerbach, special agent in charge of the Seattle Federal Bureau of Investigation Office, said his office had found nothing to indicate the likelihood of sabotage.

Witnesses said an unidentified woman and two small children were riding with Mrs. Einyre.

Damage was to the cab of the truck, owned by French, the trailer, owned by Ruan trucking firm, and the loss of about 1,000 gallons of oil from the 6,500 gallon load.

Park Board Given Warning That Flowers Cost Too Much

Other Funds To Suffer, Dixon Says

It Cost $2,098 For Maintenance Of Flower Beds

Dixon has received considerable praise for its colorful flower displays but Dixon park board members learned Friday night that this praise came at a high premium.

It cost Dixon taxpayers $2,098.74 just to maintain these flowers between April 1 and Nov. 15, 1955, according to Atty. John Dixon.

This is nearly five per cent of the total anticipated revenue for the present fiscal year ($41,583).

A park board truck was also used 587½ hours for flower maintenance. The cost of the truck was not included in the $2,098.74.

Warn of Cost

Dixon warned the members that such excessive spending would mean curtailment of the board's various recreation programs and park maintenance next year if kept up.

He also informed the members that next year's budget will be approximately $2,000 less than the present budget.

Walter Knack, who is in charge of the flowers and city parks, said he believed that one man could handle the job next year. Seven men and boys were employed for a total of 1,510½ hours this year.

He added that it might "look bad" to the men's garden clubs in the Dixon area if the current flower projects weren't continued.

Knack, an officer in the local organization, offered to raise $1,000 for flower maintenance next year.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This park board report must be viewed in the light of a controversy within the board itself over what has been long-standing park board policy of cultivating the "natural" beauty of the park system.

Park Board Member Knack is an advocate of "formal" beauty, or the cultivation of flower beds and shrubs.

Other members of the board maintain that this is too expensive, although worthwhile, and are supported by certain consultants, experts in the field of park board management.

There are six tennis courts in Dixon at the present time. Three are located across from the high school and three are located near St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Dixon also explained that the location of the proposed tennis courts would be entirely up to the park board if the referendum passes.

SEATTLE (U)—A fuel oil truck driven by a Dixon man overturned in a ditch on Rt. 2 five miles north of here Friday, and damage to the truck was estimated to be $15,000.

The trucker, Charles French, 22, 714 Broadway, said the truck overturned while he was trying to avoid a collision with an oncoming auto.

The car was driven by Mrs. James E. Einyre, 405 Third Ave., Dixon. State police charged her with driving on the wrong side of the road. No one was injured in the accident.

State police said Mrs. Einyre said she was reaching to turn on the car heater when her auto veered into the opposite lane. French said he swerved to the ditch to avoid a collision.

The truck traveled 300 feet on the shoulder before overturning. The second section of the double trailer turned end over end.

Damage was to the cab of the truck, owned by French, the trailer, owned by Ruan trucking firm, and the loss of about 1,000 gallons of oil from the 6,500 gallon load.

NEW RESUSCITATOR—This equipment was recently purchased by the Dixon fire department. Fire Chief Gail Keyser urged that it be called for immediately in case of heart attack, suffocation, drowning, etc., in the same way a fire would be reported. There is no charge for use of the equipment and it is equipped to treat any age group. A fire department rescue squad is fully qualified to operate the equipment. It is to be known as the "Robbins" equipment and was purchased as the result of a bequest left to the city by the late Ella Kenner. The resuscitator is being demonstrated by Lt. Burt Woodworth (left) and Capt. Elwood Cruise (right). Keyser is looking on and the "victim" is S. B. Brown, Aurora, the resuscitator salesman.

Tennis Court Vote Dec. 6 $35,000 Bond Issue Put to Referendum

The Dixon park board Friday night adopted a resolution to submit to the vote of the people a proposed $35,000 bond issue for building nine new tennis courts in the city.

The special referendum will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 6. The polling place will be in the lobby of the courthouse. It will be open from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The board, which accepted a petition containing nearly 700 names of people reportedly in favor of such a bond issue, took no stand on the question.

Park Board Atty. John Dixon explained that such a bond issue would mean about a one-half of one per cent increase in taxes for seven years.

There are six tennis courts in Dixon at the present time. Three are located across from the high school and three are located near St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Dixon also explained that the location of the proposed tennis courts would be entirely up to the park board if the referendum passes.

Brave Mother Saves Tots But Dies in Fire

LOS ANGELES (U)—A brave mother, awakening to find her home in flames, shepherded four of her six children to safety early today but lost her own life to the flames and smoke. One, 14-year old Norbert, leaped, the others followed the mother.

The sixth child jumped safely from a second-story window.

Firemen reported that Mrs. Virginia Labor Cormier, 34, five sons and a daughter were trapped on the second floor by fire which apparently started downstairs.

Mrs. Cormier awakened the terrified children, ranging in age from 5 to 15, and started them through the flames and smoke. One, 14-year old Norbert, leaped, the others followed the mother.

But when she got outside, 5-year old David was missing. Mrs. Cormier dashed back into the flaming home.

When firemen brought the fire under control, they found the charred bodies in an upstairs bathroom. The mothers' arms were around the son.

Mrs. Cormier was the wife of advertising executive Ray Cormier Sr., who has offices in several cities in the southwest. He was located in Dallas.

Michael Hyland, chief of the Fire Prevention Bureau, ordered an investigation after Fire Capt. Jess Hutsel reported the water tank in the basement blew up.

Injured students included Elliott; James Hubbard, 19; John Rouse, 21; Carmel; Thomas Kahn, 22; Indianapolis; Richard Owen, 19; Chicago, and John Harrell, 20, Unionville.

Residents of the house spent the remainder of the night in other fraternities.

Butler U. Students Injured

$155,000 Sigma Chi Fraternity House Destroyed

INDIANAPOLIS—(AP)—An explosion demolished the $155,000 Sigma Chi fraternity house at Butler university here early today, injuring seven persons.

An extension of the curfew which kept many away from the 3-story brick building was credited with saving a number of fraternity members from possible injury or death.

Six of the seven injured were treated in hospitals and released. The seventh was kept in a hospital but was not hurt seriously.

Firemen and police said the 5-year-old building was a total loss. They said a 1,000 gallon water tank, installed on Friday, apparently exploded.

Extended Curfew

University officials had extended the fraternity's nightly curfew Friday night for a dance, and about half of the student-members were still away from the building.

Eleven members and the house mother were in the house at the time of the explosion. More than 20 students live there.

Soviet Chiefs Visit Famous Spots in India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Russia's Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev viewed New Delhi's famous historic spots today.

A sightseeing tour on the second day of their 18-day state visit to India also gave the Soviet leaders an opportunity to pay homage to Mahatma Gandhi, whom the Soviet Union once termed "reactionary."

The two Soviet leaders sat on a stone bench to remove their shoes and advanced to the Gandhi Memorial where each placed a huge floral wreath.

Just over a year ago the Indian government protested informally to Moscow on learning that the official Soviet encyclopedia said Gandhi "pretended in a demagogic way" to lead the Indian independence movement.

An Atonement? Some observers thought today's tribute represented Russian atonement for the Gandhi reference.

The Russians also saw New Delhi's famed red sandstone fort built by the Moguls 300 years ago and the site of the last resistance by Indian Sepoys in the 1857 mutiny against the British.

They walked over a 100-yard long red carpet to see the largest Mosque in India, Jama Masjid, and viewed the 700-year-old victory tower which has been rebuilt by various imperial rulers over the centuries.

Crowds Modest

Today's crowds were more modest than the throngs on hand to greet the Russian visitors Friday. Prime Minister Nehru did not accompany them on their three-hour tour.

Front pages in all New Delhi newspapers today were filled with reports of the "unprecedented" welcome given the Soviet leaders.

The Russian delegation will go from India to Burma and Afghanistan on their 5,000-mile tour of Southeast Asia.

Gloria Vanderbilt Pulls Out of Role In Sinatra's Film

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Heiress Gloria Vanderbilt pulled out of a costarring role in Frank Sinatra's first Western because her part wasn't big enough.

Neither Sinatra nor Director Don McGuire would give the reasons for the hasty departure Friday night of the poor little rich girl, who often has been linked romantically with the singer.

But today a source close to the production gave the real reason why Miss Vanderbilt and her two sons left hastily for New York City. She had come here last weekend, declaring to reporters that she had dreamed since 14 of becoming a movie star. She now is 31.

In "Johnny Concho," Sinatra plays a swaggering young man who terrorizes a town with the help of a brother who is a gunslinger. Gloria would have played the town storekeeper's daughter.

HE'S PAID TO LIVE LIKE A BUM—It all started some 10 years ago when Stephen L. Tomasic, of Smithton, Pa., hopped a freight and got off at Smithton, looking like an unshaven, tattered bum. It was a hot day and he took off his hat to wipe the sweat from his brow. "My gosh, in just a few minutes there were 80 cents in that hat," he says. He thought there might be some future in dressing like a bum—and there was. He let his beard grow and dressed like an old prospector. He got into a parade and then began to get calls to go in other parades. Today he directs and produces pageants, often using himself as the star performer. Steve has his own auto repairing business at Smithton, but the pageant projects keep him pretty busy. A buddy, Beany Huhra, a mill worker, teams with him in taking various roles. Above, Steve, left, and Beany are shown in typical appearance as old-time prospectors.

Artist-Author to Appear in Mt. Morris for Four Days

MT. MORRIS — (Special) — "It takes a stout heart and a tough mind to practice real Christian citizenship," warns Charles A. Wells, journalist, editor and artist, who appears in Mount Morris on the four days of Dec. 4-5-6-7 at the Church of The Brethren at 7:45 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Council of Churches. "But America today faces an inescapable challenge to be have like a Christian nation. The astounding relevancy of Jesus' teachings to the problems of our times presents us with a glorious alternative in both foreign and domestic policy. The question is — Do we really believe what we say about Christian truth and love?"

Wells draws as he speaks, illustrating with large sketches in color or his interpretations of current news and trends in world affairs from the Christian angle. But he is not an evangelist, nor are the Conferences on Christ and World Need revivals in the usual sense. His entire training and experience have been in the areas of journalism and art, through the media of writing, TV, radio and illustration, thus he has brought to the field of religion the professional techniques of the layman.

Although he began his newspaper career as a sports writer and artist, he soon turned his attention to politics, economics and international relations. He worked on various papers in the West and Mid-West, traveling extensively in Asia and Europe for many years. Out of his observations in troubled areas of the world, he became increasingly concerned with the significance of the spiritual struggle prevailing everywhere, and this underlying theme dominates his lectures which are in demand in universities, colleges and churches throughout America.

Since 1941, his headquarters have been in New York where he edits Between The Lines, a widely-read newsletter which features special reports, analyses and forecasts concerning problems of war and peace, industrial relations, economic, racial and social trends. He also syndicates a weekly illustrated feature to a large list of newspapers and periodicals.

Several committees are now scheduling Wells to cover a broad cross-section of Mount Morris community life. He will address the civic clubs, the labor unions, and the student body of high-school assembly. In addition to his four evening appearances at the Church of The Brethren.

Release More Salk Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—A total of 1-773,485 cubic centimeters (ccs) of Salk anti-polio vaccine, most newly released and some reallocated, is now available for use.

The Public Health Service announced Friday night that 1,392,400 ccs—enough for that many inoculations — is ready for immediate use, together with 28,692 ccs from previously underestimated allocations and 152,393 ccs not used in areas to which it was originally assigned.

The service's latest action brings to 12,442,437 ccs the total vaccine released to the states and territories for children under 15 and expectant mothers.

Daughter of Cattleman to Marry Lord

BIG HORN, Wyo. (AP)—The 20-year old daughter of a Wyoming cattle rancher is going to marry an English lord, and she admits she's "pretty excited" about it.

But Miss Jean Wallop of Big Horn expressed hope today "there wouldn't be a lot of publicity" about the announcement she will marry Lord Porchester, 31, a socialite who has been a frequent escort of Princess Margaret.

She said she met Lord Porchester, the only son and heir of the Earl of Carnarvon, while she was visiting relatives in England.

They will be married quietly in New York, an announcement said. No date for the wedding was given.

Home-Laid Tile Floor Puts Skids Under Your Housework

After adhesive has set, first row of tiles is placed along both chalk lines in perfectly straight alignment.

Loose tiles laid flush with edge of last full tile row are scored for cutting, to fit as border tiles, as shown.

Finished job is attractive, gives promise of simple upkeep.

It's Easy to Maintain and Fairly Simple to Install

By KAY SHERWOOD

Tiling a floor area that takes more than its share of time to keep presentable can banish one stumbling block to easier housekeeping. Easily mopped-and-waxed floors are taken for granted in the kitchen and bathroom. Other areas that benefit as much from simple, speedy care include front and back entries, laundry rooms, cleaning closets, closed porches that double as playrooms and any room where small children eat.

Assuming some help from the household handyman in the preparation of the floor for tiling, you can probably install the tile yourself or with minimum help. If the area is fairly small, doesn't contain a lot of irregular shapes and you obey instructions, the job should go smoothly and quickly.

Stephanie Vaughn, home fashion consultant, advises mapping out a scale drawing of the new floor on graph paper first, using crayons to designate specific colors. If this is your first venture into tiling, I'd steer clear of too-fancy designs and effects.

They Vary

Installations vary somewhat according to the type of tile used, but general instructions and accompanying pictures from Miss Vaughn give us an idea of what to expect. The floor must be cleaned of all dust, scale, loose paint, grease and so on. All previous floor coverings, including felt underlayment, should be removed, too. With a notched trowel, spread linoleum paste on the floor and slowly unroll felt lining. (We can get all these supplies at the tile dealer's, along with answers to specific questions regarding preparation of the floor.) After the felt is unrolled, dig out the rolling pin and press down firmly, working from the center to outer edges.

Now comes the most important step—determining the exact center of the room and marking guidelines through the center in both directions. To do this, find the mid-point between the walls at each side of the room and drive a nail into the floor at these points. Chalk a piece of string, tie to nails and snap it against felt for a clear center line. Snap another chalked string at right angles to the first. (see picture above).

Place in Row

Uncemented tiles should be placed in a row along one chalk line, working from the center out. Border tiles should not be less than half a tile wide so if the space, at either end is less than this, move the row over a half tile and take out one tile to provide for the right border. Repeat the procedure along the other chalk line. You may need to reset the chalk lines at the middle so that the line is not covered at any point.

Notched trowel in hand, spread adhesive about one-and-a-half feet wide along each of the chalk lines. Bear down hard so the blade really wipes off the excess adhesive. Allow adhesive to set for at least a half hour. Place a row of tiles alternating the grain on adhesive along both chalk lines (see picture two). Spread adhesive on two-quarters of the floor and place tiles in these quarters, working away from main lines. (After laying the first quarter of floor, spread adhesive on the third quarter so that it will set by the time you reach it.)

Final Step

Border tiles are cut last. To figure out where to cut them place loose tiles over last row of in-

Clean and Oil Garden Tools Before Storing for Winter

By ALBERT S. PULLING

Garden tools don't grow on trees—and neither does the cash with which to purchase them. Thus it is essential to take good care of the tools you have.

About this time of the year, you've probably stacked most of your shovels, hoes, cultivators, trowels and the like. The lawn-mower is over in a corner of the garage. About the only tool that's in use is the rake for leaves, and perhaps the wheelbarrow.

This coming weekend take a look at those garden tools. Are they full of caked earth, rusty all around, and perhaps a split handle here and there?

Why not put them to bed for the winter clean and oiled, so they'll be bright and serviceable come Spring?

First Step

The first step is to wash off all of the caked earth from your digging tools, hoes and the like. Get the metal parts as clean as a well-scrubbed kitchen pot.

Then take a rag soaked in some linseed oil, and give the metal parts a rubdown. This will provide place, such as an unused corner of the cellar or in the rafters of the garage, with a few planks beneath to hold them.

If handles need replacing, drop by the hardware store and pick up your needs, replacing them now. There's so much to do in the spring, that a little delay to repair or replace a tool on a bright morning brings a frustrated feeling.

It's Expensive

The lawn mower is an expensive piece of equipment; be it hand or power. After a long summer and fall of usage, the blades probably need sharpening and resetting. There's never a waiting list for this service in the fall or early winter. Get your mower serviced, oiled and coated with protective oil. When you return it to the storage place at home, cover it well to keep dust from filtering into the moving parts.

If your hedge clippers have dulled from usage, or the pruning shears need sharpening, get it done now.

And while you're at it, how about making a tour of the neighborhood to collect all the tools that were borrowed from you during the growing season?

If you're saving for a rainy day, the chores of preparing your tools is a good rainy day chore, and the results will help boost your financial rainy day efforts.

Q—Where can ceramic tiles be obtained?—A. Z.

A—Clay tiles can be obtained in small quantities from many tiling contractors. You may experience some difficulty in getting them to sell you enough for a do-it-yourself bathroom wall installation, however. All you can do is to keep shopping until you find a willing dealer. There is no other retail source.

There are three general types of paint: enamel, rubber-base and oil-base. Enamel has a shiny surface, can be washed often. Rubber and oil-base paints go on easily, dry quickly and are washable up to a point.

Nomination Is No Give-Away

Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, now an avowed candidate for the presidency in 1956, is the man to beat in the Democratic party, and everybody knows it.

Historically, it is highly significant that he should occupy this dominant position. Not too many defeated candidates for the office get that kind of acceptance from their party.

William Jennings Bryan was the great exception, winning the Democratic nomination three times though never the presidency. Thomas E. Dewey had to come from behind to grab a second nomination in 1948. Wendell Willkie, though enjoying high national prestige after his 1940 licking, was undercut by party regulars in 1944.

This does not mean Stevenson is now a walk-in for the 1956 nomination. It is interesting to observe how many party leaders have changed their tune since 1953 and 1954. Then they spoke as if Stevenson could have the nomination on a platter.

One learns not to take this preliminary comment too seriously, no matter how enthusiastic. Certainly it is a pretty good index of a man's general status in the party. But it is not "delegate talk."

As the time for lining up delegates draws near, the leaders' points of view change from an easy doling out of fulsome praise to practical political trading. Those who think they have something to gain by bargaining stop acting as if they were ready to give away their delegates for nothing.

Recent developments in the South offer illustration. Both Stevenson and his friend, Stephen Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman, labored hard in the southern vineyards to rebuild party strength after President Eisenhower's heavy 1952 inroads. They felt thereby they had greatly advanced Stevenson's own cause for 1956.

Very likely they have. But they got a surprise when Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia not long ago mentioned Ohio's Democratic Gov. Frank Lausche as a good prospect for 1956.

Though Lausche no doubt would have a considerable appeal to southern conservatives, he was not being seriously advanced as a nominee. It was Russell's way of reminding Stevenson and any other northern candidates that the South will not deliver its support for the asking. It will want to know what the party proposes to do—platform-wise and perhaps on the vice presidential nomination—to give the South recognition commensurate with its strength both in the convention and at the polls.

This is the standard political pattern of the months leading to the convention. The days of glib "I'm for Adlai" talk are gone.

Stevenson is in fact powerfully placed to get the nomination again. But he clearly will have to trade for it and fight for it. The prize is too big to be given away often by politicians who are trained to exact their "quid pro quo" in return for favors extended. If he doesn't already know them, Stevenson is now learning the hard facts of political life.

Questions and Answers

Q—Is it true that a glass snake can live after it has broken into two parts?

A—Yes, but it is entirely false that the two parts join together again. Like many other kinds of lizards, it can shed its tail and grow a new one in its place.

Q—Did any particular church inspire Thomas Gray to write his "Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard"?

A—His elegy was inspired by a visit to the village churchyard of Stoke Poges in Buckinghamshire where Gray's mother lived.

Q—Is the use of the Gaelic language increasing or decreasing?

A—Today, Gaelic is the official language of Eire and is taught in Irish schools. Knowledge of Gaelic is required for some professions, and use of the language is increasing.

Adviser Pilgrim Gives Hints for Cooking Turkey

By JUNE PILGRIM
Lee County Home Adviser

It doesn't seem possible but next week will be Thanksgiving Day. And haven't we a lot to be thankful for again this year? Let's be sure to express it in our family groups around our bountiful tables. And let's be sure to thank the One who is responsible for it all.

Cooking that Thanksgiving turkey will probably be a new experience for many homemakers. Let's caution about the stuffing first of all. It should not be frozen either inside the bird or separately. Simply because during the freezing and thawing, a fine breeding ground is provided for harmful bacteria. Our foods specialists at the University of Illinois say that it is not even a good practice to stuff a bird and hold it in the refrigerator before roasting it.

The very safest method is to prepare the stuffing just before you are ready to roast the bird in a pre-heated oven. This method allows the center of the stuffing to cook in the shortest possible time. If these little "organisms" that cause food poisoning are present, they will have less chance to develop.

If it is not handy for you to prepare the stuffing at the last minute, you can get the dry ingredients ready ahead of time, store them at room temperature and then combine them with the refrigerated liquid ingredients just before stuffing. Or, if you are making a dry stuffing, combine the ingredients with the exception of raw egg (if it is to be used) and refrigerate. Again stuff the bird just before roasting.

To Defrost

If your turkey happens to be a frozen one and if he's large, too—it sometimes takes two days to defrost in the refrigerator. And this is the best way to defrost the larger, whole turkeys.

It is sometimes possible to defrost large frozen turkeys within six to eight hours under cold running water. (If you have that much water to allow to run!) In this case, the bird must be left in its original moisture-vapor proof wrappings. Don't use warm water or let the bird stand in water.

Room thawing simply is not recommended for large turkeys. However, if your turkey is small or if your turkey happens to be in pieces and you cook them right after thawing, the room temperature method can be used with safety.

Prompt cooking after defrosting is certainly desirable. But if it's required—you can keep a defrosted turkey for two or three days in a refrigerator at 38 degrees or less. It's not advisable to refreeze turkey.

For Roasting

Correct roasting of your Thanksgiving fowl will be sure to give juicy, tender meat that is evenly done to the bone. The temperature must range from 300 degrees to 350 degrees—depending on the weight of the bird. The larger the bird, the lower the temperature and of course a longer time is needed!

Roast tender fowl in a shallow uncovered pan without added water. The shallow pan allows heat to circulate around the bird, roasting it evenly; saving meat and fuel. A rack is needed also, to raise the fowl off the bottom of the pan to keep it from sticking and possibly burning. A rack also allows the heat to circulate under the bird.

Buying Hints

To start your Thanksgiving meal out right, begin by buying the right-sized bird. Allow $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 pound dressed weight of fowl for each person. Of course, if you're the type that desires left-overs, then go over this limit to some extent but don't overdo it too much.

Stuffing Hints

When packing that stuffing into the fowl use the light touch—this allows for expansion during roasting. To test a bird to see if it is done, be careful not to prick it with a fork. This let's the precious, tasty juices escape. A much better way to test for doneness is to move the drumstick with your fingers. When the joint moves easily, the bird is cooked.

Always plan the cooking time carefully. Plan so that it is finished cooking 30 to 40 minutes ahead of serving time. This makes it easier to carve and will also give you time to remove the skewers and string used in trussing. It also allows time to make gravy.

Trussing a fowl, such as a turkey, means we bend the legs and wings to the body. It is a simple procedure and well worth following, because a trussed bird cooks uniformly, browns evenly and makes an attractive appearance on the platter. Skewers can be purchased from any hardware store. Fill the neck cavity with stuffing and skewer the neck skin to the back.

Lift the wings up and out forcing the tip back until it rests flat against the neck skin. This often is satisfactory and they do not need to be tied down consequently. Lightly stuff the abdominal cavity—use skewers and lace the abdominal opening together to hold the stuffing. Then tie the legs together and fasten to the tail. The turkey is then placed breast down in a V-shaped rack—covered with a fat-moistened cloth. If yours is a flat rack, tip the turkey so one side of the breast rests on rack. Turn turkey during roasting so other side touches rack and both sides cook evenly. Turn bird breast up when about $\frac{3}{4}$ done if breast skin needs more browning.

Harrison, Baumgartner Wedding

Former Amboyan Wears White as Rockford Bride

When Miss Rosetta Harrison became the bride of Roger Baumgartner she wore a princess style frock of white satin brocade, styled with an empire waistline and scalloped neckline. The dress was made by the bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Harrison, Amboyan. The Walter L. Baumgartners, Walnut, are the bridegroom's parents.

Rev. Harvey C. Gabel officiated at the Oct. 26, evening ceremony in Beth Eden Community E.U.B. church, Rockford.

With her lovely gown, the bride wore a small white hat, trimmed with rhinestones. Her colonial bouquet was of American Beauty roses and white baby mums with American Beauty streamers and her only jewelry was a pair of rhinestone earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

Attendant in Blue

Miss Harriett Klieve, Rockford, was maid of honor. Her dress of ice blue brocade satin was fashioned like the bride's. Her colonial bouquet was blue and white in color.

Lyle Ziegler, Walnut, served as best man and Ivan Dremann, Mendota, and Wayne Geeting, Sterling, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, ushered.

Assisting at the reception, in the church parlors, were Doris Bailey, Rita Eckhardt, Violet Forney, Mrs. Thomas Kenny and Mrs. George Ryan, all of Rockford. Miss Charlene Hopkins had charge of the guest book.

Amboyan Grad

A 1952 graduate of Amboyan high school, the bride holds a position in the stenographic department of Ingersoll Milling Machine Co., Rockford. The bridegroom, currently farming near Belvidere, graduated from Walnut high school in 1953.

It Takes More Than LUCK!

To Make Your Advertising Pay Off at the Cash Register

Advertising success is almost always a matter of good management rather than of "good luck." The advertiser who consistently gets the best results, persistently follows this simple formula: (1) Advertise the right merchandise at the right price. (2) Time your advertising to suit the buying habits of your market. (3) Place your advertising where it will have the best chance of being seen by the greatest number of those who are ready to buy. Capitalize on the fact that when people are about to make a purchase, they usually turn to the advertising columns of this newspaper for information that will help them buy wisely and well. Give them this information then and there . . . and watch your sales go up. If you call this "luck," fortunately it's the kind you can make for yourself!

Kefauver

statement came after a Houston friend, R. Vernon Whiteside, told the Houston Chronicle that Johnson would enter the race for the Democratic nomination for president today.

Kefauver, who reported he will announce his 1956 plans Dec. 16 or 17, spoke with the air of a man who already had made up his mind. And he talked of the possibility of entering specific primaries with an indication, if he runs, he will make a fight of it on a wide battleground.

Claims Supports Kefauver, who had much the same audience of newsmen that Stevenson had when he read his announcement of candidacy Tuesday, related that he had talked with a number of political leaders and "plain good Democrats."

He said he had received more encouragement than he did in his vigorous but losing bid for the nomination in 1952, and had better prospects of financial support from "a lot of small people."

Kefauver said he had a friendly talk with Truman last week and found they were "on better terms."

Stevenson, who won the 1952 nomination without entering a primary, has announced he will enter the March 20 Minnesota primary. He said he has not made up his mind about other states.

The Tennessee said he would be interested in the Minnesota primary although his fellow senator, Hubert Humphrey "flew the coop on me." Humphrey and the Minnesota organization are supporting Stevenson's bid. Kefauver said he got more than 20,000 write-in votes in Minnesota in 1952.

Kefauver said candidates should "submit themselves" in as many primaries as health and finances permit. He said he would be "interested" in Ohio, like Wisconsin and lists New Hampshire as one of his favorite states.

The Tennessee also lashed at the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign policy.

"There is a great deal of feeling that our foreign policy has been bungled," he said.

Five Men Held for Big Swindle

LONDON, Ky. (U)—Five men were held today in a purported $50,000 swindle that first was reported as a robbery.

Dist. Atty. Henry J. Cook said Friday night at Lexington that the five have been indicted in the swindle of two Toledo, Ohio, brothers. Cook said the Ohioans sought to buy large bills at a discount from persons in trouble about income taxes.

All Indicted Indicted were Paul Rothschild, Carbondale, Ill., a former Cairo, Ill., policeman and southern Illinois sports official; George Benson, about 50, of London; Simpson Bryan Cross, alias Steve Laycock, Jackson, Miss.; Glennie Joe Buchanan, Jackson, Miss., and George Hutchinson, Louisville.

All were freed on bond. Rothschild's bond was $25,000, the others $10,000.

Each was indicted on five counts of swindling Robert and Kenneth Close. One count charged conspiracy to commit fraud by interstate wire and the other four counts involved fraudulent telephone calls.

Cook gave this account: Three months ago, Robert Close reported he was robbed of $60,000 near the Corbin-London Airport.

Pull Switch The Close brothers planned to buy large bills from persons afraid to spend them because of income tax troubles. They met Cross, who allegedly added $10,000 to their $50,000, and then "pulled an envelope switch."

When Robert Close insisted on accompanying the men who were to take the envelope to the exchange point, he said he was held up.

Cook declined to disclose further details of the operation. He said Rothschild was picked up by the FBI last Friday in Cairo and Benson was arrested about the same time. The others were picked up earlier.

Now He's Blind CASERTA, Italy (U)—Antonio Orsi, 20, a deaf mute since birth, found a World War II shell in the woods near Caserta.

Argentine Regime Acts To Return A Free Press Abolishes Peron's Big Propaganda Organization

BUENOS AIRES (U)—The week-old provisional government of Maj. Gen. Pedro Aramburu apparently is making sweeping moves to revive freedom of the press in Argentina after the tight controls of Peronism.

These are the steps already taken: By decree, Aramburu Friday wiped out the presidential press office, the big 1,400-man organization which under former President Juan Peron fed a steady stream of propaganda to newspapers, magazines, radio, television, and movies.

Tura To La Prensa This was followed by a declaration from Subsecretary of the Interior Carlos Manuel Muniz that the government is seeking a "prompt solution" of the La Prensa case. That big, independent newspaper—a strong critic of Peronism—was expropriated in 1951 and turned over to the pro-Peron General Confederation of Labor.

The government announced it was lifting immediately its temporary administration intervention from the Socialist newspaper La Vanguardia and that the newspaper El Norte in Santa Province had resumed publication.

El Norte was closed Wednesday by the authorities and its editor, Luis Giacosa, as arrested for supporting an outlawed three-day general strike called by the CGT.

Aramburu's decree termed the presidential press office "incompatible with a democratic regime" determined to restore freedom of the press.

To replace the office, the government established a greatly reduced press organization and said it will be strictly informative.

Adolfo Lanus, a well known editorialist on the old La Prensa, was named head of the new set-up. The new office will "regulate the relationship between the government and the press," the decree said. It added:

"Freedom is essential."

"The liberating revolution is fully determined to reestablish and guarantee full respect for writing, and speech in all its forms and manifestations in conformity with the national constitution."

Snow Brings On Accidents Eight Auto Mishaps Reported in Area

The first major snowfall of the winter has been blamed for a rash of auto accidents that occurred in the Dixon area late Friday and early today.

Four major crashes were recorded in the Dixon area and four others in Dixon. Only one minor injury was reported.

The State Police this morning warned motorists that all highways in Northern Illinois are snowpacked and dangerous.

The four area crashes: An Amboy man, LeRoy Meador, received minor injuries in a single-car accident early today a mile north of Amboy on Rt. 52. The driver, Roger Priddy, Oregon, was arrested for unreasonable speed. Estimated $500 damage to the car, $50 damage to a fence owned by Joe Nauman.

A two-car collision half mile east of Rt. 26 on Rt. 30 involving autos driven by Ray W. Wilson, Dixon, and Milton Strawbridge, Toledo, O. Estimated $100 damage to each car.

A two-car collision late Friday about three miles north of Dixon on Rt. 2 involving autos driven by Cletus Glennon, 25, Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Orville Brindle, 47, Rt. 2, Dixon. Considerable damage to Glennon auto, only minor damage to Brindle vehicle, according to Chief Deputy Sheriff Robert Burrs.

A two-car collision late Friday just north of Dixon on Rt. 26 involving autos driven by Clarence Embury and Ralph Fager, both of Polo. Considerable damage to both cars.

The four local mishaps: A two-car collision Friday afternoon involving cars driven by Ronald E. Smith, 25, Dixon, and Henry B. Wilson, 47, 1102 W. Third St., Dixon. The mishap occurred in the 100 block on E. Second Street.

A four-car crash late Friday in the 100 block on Second Street involving a truck driven by John P. Huse, 30, Ft. Smith, Ark., and three parked cars. The cars were owned by Morris W. Kessinger, 108 N. Jefferson Ave.; Gwen Saari, 40, 706 Brinton Ave.; and D. L. Reed, 1616 W. First St., all of Dixon.

A two-car collision late Friday at the intersection of Seventh Street and Peoria Avenue between autos driven by Herman Madison, 28, 917 Monroe Ave., and Evelyn Greenfield, 19, Rt. 2, both of Dixon.

A single-car mishap early today at the railroad crossing on W. Third Street involving an auto driven by William H. Yarbrough, 1228 Fourth St., Dixon. According to Officers Ed Trotter and Robert McCoy, the westbound auto skidded across tracks and into warning signal on opposite side of the road.

Football Coach Suspended After Campus Argument

MONTREY, Calif. (U)—An argument between the football coach of Monterey Junior College and the athletic director resulted in suspension of the coach and barring him from the campus, President Calvin Flint said Friday.

Flint and Dick Friend, former Notre Dame third string quarterback, was barred on grounds of "persistent and repeated evidence of unprofessional conduct." Flint added that Friend had used "vulgar language" against athletic director Don Borden.

Friend was not immediately available for comment. Team members rallied behind Friend, announcing that unless he was reinstated they would not return to school next year. Borden was hung in effigy on the campus, apparently by students.

Friend has 30 days in which to appeal his suspension to the Monterey High School Board of Trustees, Flint said, adding that line coach Tom Spindler would handle the team.

The suspended coach, 35, came here this year from an assistant's post at Indiana University.

Jewelry Tossed Into Wastebasket

LONDON (U)—Mrs. Evelyn Berger hid jewelry valued at 2,000 pounds ($3,600) in a waste basket when she went away for the weekend, but she forgot to tell the maid.

Employees at the neighborhood incinerator now are looking for the jewels as they shovel trash into the furnace.

Arctic Rescue Team Climbs To Wreckage

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (U)—An arctic rescue team may require two more days to climb the final three miles up steep, wind-lashed Charleston Peak to the wreckage of an Air Force transport carrying 14 men, all presumed dead.

Five paratroop medical technicians camped during the night on the precipitous ice-clad mountain in temperatures under 20 below zero. Using snowshoes and skis on occasion, they clambered four miles the first long day after leaving a four-wheel drive arctic truck.

The rescue group, from the 42nd Air Rescue Squadron at March Air Force Base, Calif., radioed they might reach the crash scene late today, but probably not until Sunday.

And it may be a week before rescue crews bring down from the 11,910-foot mountain the bodies of five Air Force men, five AF civilian employees, two aviation engineers and two Air Force consultants.

The four-engine C54, en route from Norton AFB, Calif., to the Nevada atomic bombing range, crashed Thursday near the peak at an elevation of 11,300 feet.

State Police Raid Handbook Near St. Louis

BELLEVIEW, Ill. (U)—Illinois state police seized betting tabs and other gambling equipment Friday in a raid on a handbook behind a tavern just outside Belleville.

The troopers, led by Lt. Elza Brantley, were accompanied by a constable.

Police identified two of six persons in the establishment as Robert F. Sheer, 36, of Belleville, and Gordon Foster, 35, of Collinsville, a nephew of Frank (Buster) Wortman, reputed racketeer boss for the East St. Louis area.

The men were questioned but not arrested.

Officers said they took calls from several persons who wanted to bet on horse races during the raid. The gambling equipment was taken to the St. Clair County jail here. Also seized was $190 in cash.

It was the first state police raid in St. Clair County in almost five months, but federal agents raided several taverns and restaurants in the county Oct. 5 and made several arrests for failure to pay the $250 federal tax on pinball machines used for gambling.

Mother Dies After Told Her Son Was Killed

MORRISON (Special) —Mrs. Ralph James, 70, Prophetstown, died Friday in Morrison Community Hospital a few hours after she was told her son had been killed in a traffic accident.

Mrs. James suffered a heart attack Thursday night when she was informed that William R. James, 35, Prophetstown, had been killed when his car hit a tree early Thursday at the junction of Rts. 2 and 78 south of Morrison.

James, the father of five children, apparently fell asleep while driving, a coroner's jury said. Joint funeral services for the mother and son were scheduled today in Erie Christian Church.

AP Editors Rap Official Secrecy Eisenhower Directive Blamed in Resolution

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (U)—A resolution adopted by the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn., condemns governmental secrecy "that is withholding from American citizens facts about their own government that they are entitled to know."

The resolution says the APME "deplores the fact that Executive Order 10-501, promulgated in 1953 for the handling of material involving military security, still permits civilian agencies not entitled to these powers to exercise classifying authority, allows too large a delegation of power, sets up no adequate system of continuous review of classifying operations and provides no penalties for military or civilian abuse of classifying powers to conceal or withhold information that can be safely released."

Resolution Approved

Approval of the resolution by voice vote, with a few dissents, came at the conclusion of a panel on freedom of information Friday afternoon.

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) chairman of the House subcommittee on government operations, told the editors that secrecy in government goes beyond the right of a taxpayer to know how his money is spent.

"If the processes of communication between the government and the citizen break down," Moss said, "a chain of consequences is set in motion that can undermine the republic."

Moss said his subcommittee plans to go into the operations of a number of agencies early in 1956 and intends to call in the Justice, Defense and Commerce Departments before hearings end.

The congressman said he wants to see if governmental information agencies are attempting "news management" and he plans to study complaints of "intimidation and reprisal" filed with the group. The resolutions adopted by the editors authorize the APME officer and committees "to resist and oppose censorship and secrecy that threatens the people's right to know, wherever and whenever encountered. The actions, it said, must be "consistent" with the non-partisan and nonpolitical character of the Associated Press.

At its 1951 convention, the APME passed a resolution which criticized an executive order issued by President Truman covering classification of security matters. That order was superseded in 1953 by an order of President Eisenhower and it was this replacement which was opposed in the new resolution.

Victory in the battle for freedom of information on local and state levels would help the situation in Washington in the future, the editors were told by Peyton B. Winfree Jr., of the Lynchburg (Va.) News and Advance, because in a few years men going to the national Capitol "would be used to conducting public business in public."

The directors decided to hold the association's 1958 convention at French Lick Springs, Ind. They had agreed in former years that the 1956 meeting would be held at Philadelphia and the 1957 session at New Orleans.

Illinois Bell To Hike Wages

CHICAGO (U)—Wage increases ranging from $2.50 to $5 a week have been agreed upon by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. and the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Union members still must ratify Friday's agreement which affects 11,000 plant employees in Chicago and 107 communities in the Chicago area and downstate Illinois. If the agreement is ratified, it will go into effect Dec. 4, and will extend through April 1957.

The present contract expires April 30, 1956. However, the union requested reopening on the wage provisions.

The company estimated the raises would cost the company $2,800,000 a year. Workers' wage scales vary according to job classifications and the areas in which they work.

Boiler Explodes; One Man Is Killed

WEST CHICAGO, Ill. (U)—The explosion of a locomotive boiler hurled two men 35 feet Friday killing one and injuring the other. A man who was under the locomotive, escaped with minor injuries.

The accident occurred at the West Chicago yards of the Chicago and North Western Railway. Jack Dieks, 18, a fireman of West Chicago, was killed. Richard Baldisia, 18, an engine watcher from South Elgin, was critically injured.

Paul Henke, the engineer, was doing maintenance under the locomotive and escaped with minor injuries.

Wildcats in 51-38 Loss To Big Rock

Bill Hussey Hits 14 Points to Pace Franklin Attack

BIG ROCK — (Special) — Pulling away in the second and third periods on a hot streak and gift free throws, Big Rock stopped Franklin Grove's bid for a successful basketball opening by grabbing a 51-38 decision over the Wildcats, Friday night.

The two clubs battled to a 10-10 draw during the first period but Big Rock took a 24-20 lead at the halftime intermission.

In the third period, the Wildcats ran into trouble as they scored only eight points while Big Rock pulled into an 11 point lead with 15 points.

Bill Hussey, 5-7 forward set the pace for the Wildcats with seven baskets for 14 points. Richard Blume with 4-0 and Stan Haenitsch with 3-2, were next for Franklin with eight points each. Davis was high for Big Rock with 8-2 for 18.

"Played Well"

New Coach Maurice Heckman said there were no excuses for the loss. "The boys did a fine job and played well," he commented after the game.

The squad is hampered by the loss of Duwain Heathorn, high scoring guard who led the team in scoring last season. Heathorn was injured in an auto accident recently and will be out of action for two or three more weeks with a broken hand.

In the preliminary game, Big Rock scored in the last five seconds to break a 34-34 tie and win, 36-34.

Scoring:

FRANKLIN GROVE — Kelly 2; Phillips 2; Hussey 14; Blume 8; Stahl 4; Fair 0, and Haenitsch 8. BIG ROCK — Fritsch 16; Ford 5; Lewis 6; Davis 18; Jump 6, and Benson and Bunce.

Score by quarters:

Franklin Grove 10 10 8 10-38
Big Rock 10 10 15 12-51

Pastrano Wins Decision Over Joey Rowan

NEW YORK — Willie Pastrano from New Orleans looks like the best young fighting man to hit the big time since Floyd Patterson came home from the 1952 Olympics.

The nimble dancing master from the bayou land—now transplanted to Miami Beach—may not be able to knock your hat off but he can make all the moves. He made most of them Friday night at Madison Square Garden while beating Joe Rowan, a plodding aggressor, on a unanimous decision in 10 rounds.

After the match, Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, was calling Willie "a big edition of Willie Pep." Markson has in mind a rematch with Chuck Spieser, whose Pastrano beat July 27, or a possible bout with the winner of the Paul Andrews-Bob Satterfield contest at Buffalo, Nov. 29.

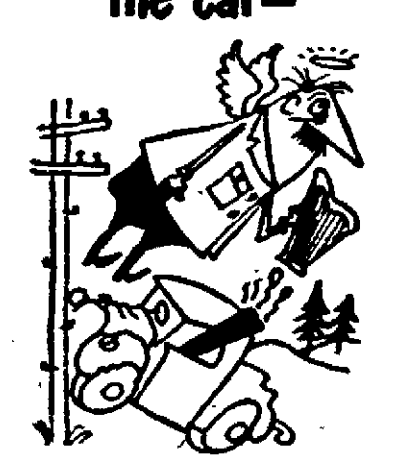

Those who watched the 19-year-old heavyweight could think of nothing but a match between Pastrano and Patterson, current No. 1 challenger to lightweight champ Archie Moore. Pastrano weighed 181½, the same as Rowan.

Pastrano convinced all three officials of his class. Referee Rudy Goldstein and Judge Jack Gordon saw it 7-2-1 and Judge Artie Aidaia had it 7-3. The AP card was 8-2, also for Pastrano.

Except for the first and ninth round, it was all Pastrano.

Pastrano, unbeaten in his last 14 starts, now owns a 34-4 lifetime record for 42 pro starts. His last defeat was by Italo Scorticini Nov. 30, 1953.

Sloppy Showdown

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — A sloppy field was predicted for today's showdown football game between Michigan and Ohio State as the ever-changing weather forecast took a turn for the worse.

The weather bureau in Detroit said there would be two to three inches of snow, mixed with rain, and temperatures in the mid-30s.

Elect Keeley New Baltimore Oriole Prexy

BALTIMORE — Building contractor James Keeley Jr. was elected president of the Baltimore Orioles Friday to replace Clarence W. Miles.

Keeley, 43, will serve unpaid in the position for which Miles got $25,000 a year.

The Baltimore builder was promoted from vice president, and the position he vacated was not filled. Neither Keeley nor other Orioles directors would discuss the reason, but speculation is that a suggestion of Miles' is back of it.

Miles, who promoted the money to bring the American League franchise to Baltimore from St. Louis two years ago, said when he resigned that the club ought to hire an "experienced baseball executive." It has no such individual presently, and talk was that if one is hired, he might have the title of "executive vice president."

Keeley and other newly elected directors unanimously reaffirmed their confidence in general manager-manager Paul Richards and "their whole-hearted support in his operations of the ball club," which finished seventh. Richards has two more years to go on his contract.

Japanese Coed Wins Jap Version Of the $64,000

TOKYO (U) — A cute Waseda University coed Friday became the first winner of the 160,000 Yen Question, Japan's version of the U.S. television show, $64,000 Question.

Midori Nakayama, 20, was asked in her 10th and final question to name the positions of four New York Yankee players — Cerv, Grim, Weisler and Turley — and something they all had in common.

Miss Nakayama is a baseball fan and the Yankees had just completed 16 exhibition games in Japan.

"They're all named Bob," she replied promptly. "Cerv is an outfielder, the other three pitchers."

Because of tax complications the prize is a plush motor scooter. Its 160,000-yen value is $450, about 10 months' wages for a skilled workman.

Five Cardinals Will Attend Golden Jubilee in Chicago

CHICAGO (U) — Chicago became host today to five cardinals, the largest assembly of princes of the Roman Catholic Church in Chicago since the Eucharistic Congress in 1926.

The occasion is the golden jubilee celebration of the Catholic Church Extension Society. The society administers all missions in the United States and lands flying the American flag.

Cardinals attending the ceremonies are Thomas Cardinal Tien, S.V.D., exiled archbishop of Peking; Valerian Cardinal Gracias, archbishop of Bombay; Edward Cardinal Mooney, archbishop of Detroit; James Cardinal McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles, and Samuel Cardinal Stritch, archbishop of Chicago.

In addition, 120 archbishops and bishops from all parts of the world will attend a solemn high mass in Holy Name Cathedral Sunday. Among the dignitaries will be Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, Washington, D. C., apostolic delegate to the United States.

The jubilee mass will be offered by Archbishop William D. O'Brien of Chicago. He has been associated with the society since 1907 and been president since 1925. Cardinal Stritch will preach the sermon.

In the cardinals' parties will be attendants from among the clergy and laymen who have been knighted by the Vatican.

Archbishop O'Brien will report at the annual meeting Monday on expenditure of two million dollars on home missions during the last year.

Masked Bandits Slay Bartender, Wound Patron

CHICAGO (U) — Three masked bandits fatally wounded a 31-year-old bartender and shot a 55-year-old tavern patron Friday night in the attempted pickup of a near Northwest Side saloon.

The bartender, Thomas Battles, died in a hospital a few hours after being shot through the right eye by one of the gunmen in a crowded tavern at 601 W. Division St. In serious condition with a bullet wound in his chest is Winslow Huey, Negro, a park district worker.

Max Handler, the saloon proprietor, told police the three gunmen entered the place shouting "stickup." After the shooting of Battles and Huey the three fled without any loot, he said.

Roger Touhy Will Make New Freedom Bid

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U) — Roger (The Terrible) Touhy, serving long terms for a jail break and a kidnapping, has begun a new effort to get out of Stateville Penitentiary at Joliet.

Touhy filed a motion Friday with the Illinois Supreme Court for leave to appeal as a poor person from a conviction and 199-year sentence in Will County for taking part in a 1942 prison break.

Touhy previously failed in an effort to win freedom in this case. He recently wrote to the Will County circuit clerk seeking background information on the case.

The information was given him. Touhy also is serving a 99-year sentence for the 1934 kidnapping of Jake (The Barber) Factor. Touhy long has protested innocence in this case and last year U. S. District Judge John P. Barnes ordered him released on grounds the conviction was obtained on perjured evidence.

The U. S. Court of Appeals overturned Judge Barnes' decision and later refused a rehearing.

Auto Changes Color, Owner Blames Smog

LOS ANGELES (U) — Southern California smog has been blamed for something new.

E. R. Murray, whose home is Kentfield, Calif., near San Francisco, has presented to the Los Angeles City Council a claim for $147.50 damages which he said the smog did to his automobile, his eye glasses and his nerves.

The smog, he said, caused his automobile to change color while he was driving recently between Huntington and Malibu beaches. He blamed it for 330 damages to his glasses, which were broken; $90 for a new auto paint job. The nervous tension he appraised at $27.50.

The council hasn't acted.

Farley Granger Will Marry Soon

HOLLYWOOD (U) — Some time before Christmas, the Hollywood bachelor actor Farley Granger will marry the Broadway actress Janice Rule.

Granger's agent announced the 30-year-old film player's engagement Friday night. Granger and Miss Rule are in New York now, and that's where they plan to be wed in a simple church ceremony. They met last summer in the cast of the Broadway production "Carefree Tree."

A romance between Granger and Shelley Winners waxed and waned for months, here and abroad, before he met Miss Rule, 24. The latter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rule of Chicago, had several minor screen roles before her career blossomed on Broadway. She formerly was the wife of Richard Nash, playwright.

Minnesota Youths Charged With Armed Robbery

MACOMB, Ill. (U) — Three youths from St. Paul, Minn., have been charged with the armed robbery of a Macomb motorist. They were captured near Macomb Wednesday.

McDonough County Sheriff John Elven identified the youths as Russell Harvey, 16, Robert L. Butler, 15, and Clarence Huesman, 14. The three were bound over to the grand jury Friday after waiving preliminary hearing. No date has been set for the trial.

Illinois State Police said the boys related they left St. Paul Tuesday after breaking into an automobile and taking two guns. Later they stopped at several gas stations and sped away without paying for gas and oil.

Near Bushnell in McDonough County, Ill., they had car trouble and a motorist, L. Jones of Macomb, stopped to offer assistance. The boys took $20 and Jones' car from him, according to state police.

Fire Department to Hire 18-Year-Olds

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U) — Louisville's fire department may start hiring 18 year-olds soon. The department Friday received tentative approval from the Louisville Civil Service Board to lower the age requirement from 21 to 18. Officials said the purpose of the move would be to speed recruiting and overcome a manpower shortage.

One-Minute Reviews Describe New Books at Dixon Library

Today we are presenting our last list of book for Book Week. Chiefly it consists of books for young people approximately 12 to 16 years old. In addition there are a few adult books released this week.

White Falcon, by Elliott Arnold. This is the story of John Tanner's capture by the Ottawa Indians. He was taken from his Kentucky home in the 1770's and adopted into the tribe. He became a true Indian in action and spirit.

Song of the Voyageur, by Beverly Butler. Diane Aubert came from Massachusetts to Wisconsin in the 1830's. The wilderness was strange but exciting. When a young man from Philadelphia offered love and a home in the East the decision was very difficult.

Showboat Summer, by Rosamond Du Jardin. Pam and Penny, the twins of "Double Feature" spend a summer on a college showboat where the crowded conditions of living caused friction but meant a lot of fun too.

Elaine Stinson: Campus Reporter, by Doris Faber. College and newspaper work combined with romance—in her senior year Elaine got a job as campus reporter on the big city paper. Another reporter, a young man, was furious and the fun began.

The Island Stallion Races, by Walter Farley. The latest horse story by the author of all those good ones about the Black Stallion. In this one Steven Duncan rides Flame in the International Race at Havana, Cuba.

Rising Star, by Dorothy Jackson. A girl of eighteen, just released from a sanatorium, falls in love with a beautiful lame race horse. She takes over his care and meets a young veterinarian who becomes important to her too.

The Last Wagon, by Jim Kjelgaard. Over the Oregon Trail Joe Tower moves his family—his wife and four children—from Missouri to Oregon.

Love Taps Gently, by Janet Lambert. More doings of the Jordan family—including the twins, Neal and Susan—and the Parrish family who have peopled Miss Lambert's other popular books for girls.

Junior Intern, by Alan E. Nourse. Ted Coleman, a junior in high school, must decide whether to concentrate on football or medicine in college. When a doctor friend offered him a summer job in a hospital, he accepted to see if he could make his decision.

The Star Reporter Mystery, by Norvin Pallas. A mystery is solved by a young reporter.

The Phantom Rider, by Keith Robertson. Humor, horses and mystery in a very pleasant mixture. The horse heard racing each night was said to be the ghost horse ridden by a girl dead for 200 years. Of course, it wasn't and there hangs the tale.

Rosemary, by Mary Stolz. Rosemary lived in a college town but college seemed out of her reach. Contact with the students developed when a fraternity man comes to live in their rented room.

Roll the Red Wagons, by Charles Stanley Strong. "A story of the volunteer fire service". Modern volunteer fire departments are new in fiction. This story shows all the excitement of going to fight fires with good equipment.

For Immediate Release, by Adrian A. Paradis. Not a novel, this is a book giving complete information on the careers possible in the field of public relations.

Angel of Mercy, by Rachel Baker. A biography of Dorothea Lynde Dix, America's Florence Nightingale. She served with the Union forces in the Civil War, and spent the rest of her life working for good hospital with trained staffs.

Tennis With Hart, by Doris Hart. A thrilling true story of courage and determination to overcome what seemed to be sure defeat. Doris Hart was a cripple who became a world champion tennis player.

Adult Books
The Secret of Happiness, by Billy Graham. Billy Graham the young evangelist, writes about the most famous sermon in the world, "The Sermon on the Mount". Mr. Graham's sub-title is "Jesus teaching on happiness as expressed in the Beatitudes."

Earth in Upheaval, by Immanuel Velikovsky. Another book by the author of "Worlds in Collision", continuing his theories that evolution and many geological theories are not the answer to the world's mysteries. His arguments that the approach of some body from outer space came near the Earth so that the two magnetized bodies reacted on each other with strong forces, causing catastrophic tidal waves and the elevations of our highest mountains, not millions of years ago but a few thousand. He marshals his arguments well and documents
